課程概述 Course Descriptions & 學習目標 Learning Objectives	playwright's literary focus from social problems to personal/psychological dilemmas. Special attention will be given to Ibsen's representations of the Woman Question, particularly in relation to the fin-de-siècle New Woman, as well as to themes such as truth, freedom, ethics, duty, idealism, and capitalism. Among the so-called "Ibsen Cycle," we will focus primarily on six plays, including The Pillars of Society (1877), A Doll's House (1879), Ghosts (1881), An Enemy of the People (1882), Rosmersholm (1886), and John Gabriel Borkman (1896). The seminar aims to deepen students' understanding of the socio-historical context of Ibsen's time, explore how his influence transcends temporal and geographical boundaries, and examine how his works have become integral to the canon of world literature.
課程要求 Course Requirements	 Students are required to attend the class regularly and are encouraged to participate in class discussions. Attendance policy: Students are permitted up to three absences in this course, regardless of any reason, provided that request of leave is submitted to the Student Leave Management System (學生請假系統) on the University's single sign-on portal (單一入口) within one week. Emailing notice is not accepted Students who exceed three absences—even for legitimate medical reasons—will be strongly advised to withdraw from the course. Two points from the final grade will be deducted for each absence without an approved leave. Being late to class may be considered an unexcused absence. Students are required to complete their assignments independently. Plagiarism or unauthorized collaboration will lead to course failure. Each student will give reports, take on co-chairing, and submit a 3000-word research paper (1500 words for undergraduates).
