課程概述 Course Descriptions	This course is designed to help students improve their English communication skills, with a focus on listening and speaking as practical skills that can be strengthened through systematic practice. Through regular structured practice and interactive classroom activities, students will build their listening comprehension and develop the confidence and the skills needed to express ideas clearly in English. The ultimate goal is to help students think directly in English—without relying on translation—and achieve automaticity in real-time communication. In the second year, the course places greater emphasis on critical thinking and argumentation. Students will learn to analyze a range of topics, construct logical arguments, and communicate their viewpoints persuasively. These skills are essential not only for academic success but also for effective communication in professional and real-world contexts. Please make sure to arrive on time during the first week of the semester for enrollment confirmation and course announcements. 開學第一週請務必準時出席。
學習目標 Learning Objectives	By the end of the course, students will be able to: - demonstrate improved listening comprehension through engagement with a variety of authentic spoken texts - develop and deliver organized spoken presentations with clarity, appropriate vocabulary, and supporting evidence - participate actively in academic and professional discussions by expressing opinions, asking relevant questions, and responding appropriately in English - formulate and articulate persuasive arguments using logical reasoning and evidence

學習評量與 成績配分 Assessment and Grade Distribution	Participation, assignments, listening tests: 55% Speaking tasks: 45%
相關訊息 Additional Information	Attendance and participation: Your consistent participation in class sessions is the most critical component of a successful course. You are expected to come to each class prepared and ready to participate in class activities. Each student is allowed two absences without penalty. Any additional absences, whether excused or unexcused, will lower your final grade by 5 points. Repeated tardiness disrupts class discussion and will negatively affect your participation grade. Assignments and listening tests: Throughout the semester, you will complete several assignments designed to strengthen your communication skills. These assignments and other course content will be integrated into listening-based tests. Speaking tasks: For each module, you will complete a speaking task related to the course topic. In-class activities and short assignments throughout the module will help you build the necessary skills and prepare for the task. Classroom etiquette: The foundation of our learning environment is built on respect. It's crucial that you familiarize yourself with basic classroom etiquette and take responsibility for your actions as a college student. Your adherence to these guidelines will contribute to a positive and respectful classroom atmosphere for all of us. Academic integrity: Academic integrity is a cornerstone of educational and scholarly activity. Cheating and plagiarism, which involves using someone else's ideas, words, or work without proper acknowledgment, will be treated as a severe offense and penalized.
