

The Professional Practicum in Counseling Psychology I

Term of 109-2 (Spring, 2021)

Course Syllabus

Title: The Practicum in Counseling Psychology I (諮商心理專業實習)

Course ID: 3169405

Credits: 3 (The course is offering in English)

Purpose:

This course requires each and every student to complete practicum at one of more professionally related institutes which should be approved by the instructors and the institutes. To complete the course, each and every student will need to fulfill the types of practice and amount of hours required. The regulations of the professional practicum will be offered by both the institutes and the course instructors. It is suggested to every student to get approval the supervising instructors of the course and discuss for details individually. It is also suggested that each and every student who takes this course will need to have fifty hours of individual supervision.

Evaluation criteria of the course:

The evaluation of the course is jointly based on the supervisor of the institute of practicum and the supervising instructor(s) of the course.